WHAT DO CATHOLICS ACTUALLY BELIEVE?

Not sure what Catholics believe—or know someone who has questions? Come and discover what the Catholic faith teaches through our RCIA Program!

RCIA (the Rite of Christian Initiation of Adults) is a journey for adults who are not baptized and would like to learn more about becoming Catholic. It is also open to those who are missing one or more sacraments, such as Confirmation.

Together, we will learn about the Catholic faith, pray, ask questions, and grow in our understanding. The journey includes videos, prayer, and special rites celebrated at Mass.

St. Vincent's Corner:

As we all contend with the smoke, the sadness at knowing our neighbors have lost their homes, pets, jobs and more we can continue to pray for rain, pray for our first responders and pray for strength to cope.

Our dear friends at ICC let us continue to work together to make life a better place for all of us.

Jeffrey Loma Transitional Diaconate Ordination Mass Live Stream Link or <https://youtube.com/live/Ubv45y-Q3p4?feature=share>

Brother Jeffrey Loma (Bro. Jeff), 36, is a seminarian intern of the Diocese of Nelson. He completed his philosophical and theological formation in the Philippines, earning his Philosophy Studies, Ecclesiastical Degree in Theology, and a Master of Arts in Theology. Specializing in finance in the field of business, he holds a Bachelor in Business Administration, Master in Business Administration, and a candidate for Doctor of Business Administration.

He is the third of four children and his family resides in Canada. He arrived in Canada in July 2024 and soon began his internship formation in the Diocese of Nelson. Since then, he has gained a wide range of pastoral experiences through his assignments in various parishes across the diocese including Cranbrook (East Kootenay – prior to his acceptance to the Diocese), Trail (West Kootenay), Penticton (South Okanagan), and currently Kelowna (North Okanagan).

Prior to entering the Nelson Diocese internship formation, Bro. Jeff worked for five years as a university educator in the Philippines, teaching Business Administration and Theology, where he shared knowledge of faith, doctrine, and moral teachings. He also gained experience working in the banking sector early in his career. Although he found fulfillment in teaching and academic research, he gradually recognized a deeper calling in his life. Sensing a longing that professional success could not satisfy, he discerned God's invitation to serve more fully in a personal and pastoral capacity. This led him to leave his academic career and pursue his vocation to the diocesan priesthood.

One of the most transformative moments in his life came during his early years in seminary formation in the Philippines when he unexpectedly lost his voice due to a rare neurological vocal chords disorder known as spasmodic dysphonia. For someone preparing for the priesthood — a vocation centered on preaching, teaching, and pastoral communication — the experience became a painful and deeply challenging journey. For 4 or 5 years, he struggled not only with physical limitations, but also with uncertainty, discouragement, and the emotional weight of losing the ability to speak. Despite these trials, he continued to hold on to his faith, trusting in God's purpose even during moments of silence and suffering.

Through God's providential care, perseverance, prayer, medical treatment, and the support of family, friends, and mentors, Bro. Jeff miraculously regained his voice. More importantly, the experience transformed his understanding of suffering, compassion, and faith. His journey became a testimony of hope and resilience that has inspired many people facing their own personal struggles and hardships. Today, he often shares his story as an encouragement to others, reminding them that even in moments when life seems uncertain or broken, God continues to work through suffering and can bring healing, purpose, and renewed strength.

In his personal time, Bro. Jeff enjoys reading books, learning new things, painting, gardening, biking, walking, and exercising. He has a particular interest in creating ritual prayers, retreats, and guided meditations, as well as in planning and organizing activities and events.
